Letter From the President

gtsbe.president@gmail.com

Dear Corporate Partners,

My name is Asia Falkner, and I have the honor of serving as the 2026–2027 President of the Georgia Tech Society of Black Engineers (GTSBE). I'm a fifth-year Civil Engineering major with a minor in Architecture, driven by a passion for creativity and building community.

As an out-of-state student, GTSBE was the first organization that truly made Georgia Tech feel like home. Through the Freshman Leadership Component (LDR), where I served as Community Service Chair, I found purpose, family, and the foundation for my leadership journey. Since then, GTSBE has remained my anchor; connecting me to lifelong friends, meaningful service, leadership development, and transformative professional opportunities.

Over the past four years, I've been blessed to contribute to and witness the impact of our chapter. From serving as TORCH Chair to Programs Chair, I've seen what's possible when students are poured into, believed in, and given the tools to lead. Last year alone, we hosted over 160 events aimed at empowering the next generation of black engineers: technical workshops, service projects, general body meetings, and more.

Our theme this year is IMPACT:

Inspire Unity, Mobilize Resources, Partner for Progress, Amplify Access, Cultivate Community, Transform the Future

IMPACT is a call to action. In a time when DEI is under attack, our mission is clearer than ever: to build and sustain a chapter that uplifts every member and drives real change in the classroom, workplace, and world. Your partnership is the catalyst. With your continued support, we can expand our reach, strengthen our programs, and equip our members with the skills, confidence, and opportunities they deserve. You are not just investing in events; you are investing in people, purpose, and long-term IMPACT.

Thank you for walking with us on this journey. Let's continue to make an IMPACT together.

With gratitude,

Asia Falkner

Letter From the Finance Chair

gtsbe.finance@gmail.com

Greetings Corporate Partners,

My name is Precious Uchehara, and I have the honor of introducing myself as the 2026-2027 Finance Chair of the Georgia Tech Society of Black Engineers (GTSBE). I'm a second-year Business Finance major with a minor in FinTech, driven by passion to serve my community and build partnerships that expand access, resources, and long-term support for our members.

I'd like to extend to you the opportunity to become one of our corporate sponsors. Our corporate sponsors are instrumental in our ability to impact not only students on our campus but also the community around us. The support we receive from our sponsors enables GTSBE to be a high-performing, student-led organization year after year while having a profound impact both on and off campus.

We are offering a variety of sponsorship packages, including four different levels of sponsorship and an "A La Carte" section for the 2026-2027 academic year. We hope the variety of sponsorship opportunities helps you find a package that meets the specific goals of your company. There is also an opportunity to sponsor a student for our regional and national conventions, which allow our members to connect with young professionals and potential employers. Additionally, our Affiliate packages include registration for our Annual Corporate Networking Social.

Our sponsorship packages are intentionally structured to create a mutually beneficial relationship for our sponsors. We want your contribution to GTSBE to bring as much value to your company as it does to our organization. I am extremely excited to work with you this upcoming year and look forward to the partnership we will build.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions or concerns. I hope to hear from you!

Sincerely,

Precious Uchehara

Finance Chair | Georgia Tech Society of Black Engineers
